Summary of findings

Overall summary

Pelsall Hall provides accommodation and personal care to a maximum of 41 older people . Some people lived with dementia. At the time of our inspection 27 people lived at the home.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Staff, relatives and healthcare professionals were required to follow strict processes when entering the home to prevent the introduction of infection.
- A nominated relative could book a slot to visit their family member in line with the new Government visiting directive.
- The use of single occupancy bedrooms, social distancing and where possible good ventilation reduced infection risk.
- Systems in place ensured people would be admitted safely to the home to prevent the risk of infection entering into the home.
- Stocks of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) were ample for staff, visitors and people to use.
- COVID-19 tests were carried out three times a week for staff and monthly for people to identify if there were any COVID-19 cases.
- The premises offered a number of communal rooms and bedrooms were single occupancy with wet room facilities. This helped to promote social distancing and reduce a risk of infection transmission within the home.
- Robust cleaning regimes ensured the risk of infection transmission was reduced.
- Staff received IPC training which included donning and doffing of PPE and PPE usage.
- The provider's IPC policy had been reviewed regularly.

Pelsall Hall

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 08 March 2021 and was announced.
