Summary of findings

Overall summary

Meyrick Rise is purpose-built property in a residential area of Bournemouth. Registered for up to 73 people, there were 36 people living at the home receiving support and nursing care. The home was accessed over three floors via stairs or a lift.

We found the following examples of good practice.

Safe practices were in place for welcoming visitors to the home. These included rapid COVID-19 testing, personal protective equipment (PPE) and hand hygiene. Vaccination status was checked for all visiting professionals and records of staff vaccinations were maintained. Staff testing for COVID-19 was at the frequency in line with government guidance and a process was in place for monitoring testing within the home.

People told us they happy and felt safe living at Meyrick Rise. We spoke with people informally as we walked through the home who were complimentary about the staff. One person said, "I love it here, especially the food and the staff are so kind." The manager and staff at the home had worked hard to keep people safe. Policies and procedures within the home were robust and frequent auditing meant that the home worked safely and within good practice and government guidelines. The regional support manager told us they had a good team of staff saying, "We are proud of the team and how resilient they have been."

Supplies of PPE were in good supply, stock checks maintained, and we observed staff wearing this correctly. Staff had training in infection prevention and control and were shown how to put on and take off PPE correctly. The home was a good standard of cleanliness. Emergency procedures in place meant that the home could operate under pressures such as an outbreak or staff shortages. Domestic staff worked hard to keep all areas of the home clean and tidy including frequently touched areas such as door handles and handrails.

People were supported to maintain contact with their loved ones during the COVID-19 pandemic. Visiting restrictions changed and the home adapted its policies, practices and communicated to people and their relatives verbally, email or by telephone. Risk assessments were completed for all aspects of care and support including additional risks related to COVID-19. Specific risk assessments had been completed for staff.

Meyrick Rise

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 21 February 2022 and was announced.

Visiting in care homes

Meyrick Rise was supporting visiting within the home, including essential care givers. Checking on changes to government guidance and adjusting as needed.

From 11 November 2021 registered persons must make sure all care home workers and other professionals visiting the service are fully vaccinated against COVID-19, unless they have an exemption or there is an emergency.

- The Government has announced its intention to change the legal requirement for vaccination in care homes, but the service was meeting the current requirement to ensure non-exempt staff and visiting professionals were vaccinated against COVID-19.
