Summary of findings

Overall summary

Ashefield Residential Care Home is a care home registered to provide accommodation and person care for up to 20 people. At the time of our inspection 20 people were living at the home. CQC regulates both the premises and the care provided.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The provider was following best practice guidance in terms of ensuring visitors to the home did not introduce and spread COVID19. Information and instructions for visitors were clearly displayed and explained in person on entry to the home.

We observed staff wearing the required PPE correctly whilst supporting people at the home.

The provider participated in regular COVID-19 testing programmes and ensured staff were kept up to date with guidance about any developments with the COVID-19 pandemic. There were plans in place to manage any potential future outbreak of this virus.

During our visit, the home was calm, and staff were well organised. We observed staff supporting people to attend activities.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 27 January 2022 and was announced. We gave the service 24 notice of the inspection.
