Summary of findings

Overall summary

About the service

Swanland House is a care home providing personal care for up to 26 people. There were 17 people living in the home at the time of the inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- The provider had implemented effective systems for monitoring signs and symptoms of covid-19.
- The provider was in the process of having an external visiting room with separate entrance and exits and full Perspex screen to separate the room to allow for safe visiting.
- Effective plans were in place to enable zoning of the units and people would have dedicated staff to support them to reduce the risk of the virus spreading in the event of a Covid-19 outbreak.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are conducting a thematic review of infection control and prevention measures in care homes.

The service was selected to take part in this thematic review which is seeking to identify examples of good practice in infection prevention and control.

This inspection took place on 12 November 2020 and was announced.

Is the service safe?
