Summary of findings

Overall summary

Kippingtons Nursing Home is a care home with nursing which is registered to provide a service for up to 55 people aged 65 and over and those with dementia who require assistance with nursing and personal care. At the time of the inspection 39 people were living at the home. People living at the home had a variety of care and support needs, such as dementia and physical disabilities. The service is provided from an adapted residence over two floors.

We found the following examples of good practice.

People were well supported by staff to have telephone and internet contact with their family and friends. The staff facilitated in person visits in a manner which minimised the risk of infection spread, including outside visits, and visits using patio doors to a conservatory area. Visitors were asked screening questions and to wash their hands with soap and water when they arrived. They were also tested for COVID-19 using lateral flow devices.

Plans were in place to isolate people with COVID-19 to minimise transmission. The registered manager had good supplies of personal protective equipment that were readily available at stations throughout the service.

Staff had received training on how to keep people safe during the COVID-19 pandemic and staff and residents were regularly tested for COVID-19. The building was clean and free from clutter.

Staff ensured people's well-being had been maintained and they had sufficient stimulation, such as activities supported by dedicated coordinators. People were seen to be relaxed and happy and were well supported by staff.
