Summary of findings

Overall summary

The Royal Care Home is a residential care home providing personal care to 24 people aged 65 and over at the time of the inspection. The service can support up to 27 people who may be living with dementia. The care home is a two-storey building with a stair lift to the first floor. There are two lounges and a dining room.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The service had dedicated staff to ensure people were admitted safely and continued to be supported in the service in accordance with national guidance. Staff supported people and their relatives to understand the policies and procedures surrounding protection against COVID 19, the isolation processes and how the service could help keep people safe.

Social media systems such as mobile phones and computer systems were used to facilitate contact between people and their relatives. One person said, "They make sure we contact our relatives and keep in touch."

During our visit we observed the staff using Personal Protective Equipment, (PPE) safely. The registered manager told us sufficient stocks of PPE were available and we confirmed this on the visit. A staff member said, "We are not short of PPE, we have plenty of supplies."

The service participated in the regular COVID-19 testing programme for both staff and who lived at The Royal. There were no staff employed who had not been vaccinated as now required.

The home was clean and hygienic. Cleaning schedules were in place and PPE stations placed around the home. Additional cleaning protocols were in place to ensure all areas of the building were regularly sanitised.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 27 January 2022 and was announced. We gave the service 24 hours' notice of the inspection.
