Summary of findings

Overall summary

Everdale Grange is a purpose-built care home, providing residential, personal and nursing care over three buildings and two floors and can support up to 67 people. There is a planned 'designated area' of 12 beds in a separate unit where staff will admit people from hospital who have tested positive for Covid-19.

We were assured that this service met good infection prevention and control guidelines as a designated care setting.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- The provider had identified a specific area within the home to ensure effective use of cohorting and zoning. That meant that people had rooms and facilities in a certain area of the home and were cared for by a dedicated staff team, which reduced the potential for the infection to spread. Staff were appointed to work in designated areas which further reduced the potential for transfer of infections.
- There was a designated central entry system into the service. Everyone was temperature tested and completed hand disinfection before entry. Anyone being admitted from hospital who were potentially Covid positive were admitted directly to the designated area.
- The provider ensured there was a plentiful supply of personal protective equipment (PPE) including face masks and aprons and we saw staff used this appropriately. Staff were encouraged to change their PPE regularly. Used PPE was disposed of in special foot operated pedal bins situated throughout the home which ensured the potential for transfer of infection was reduced.
- Staff were aware of the process to encourage people to wash their hands frequently throughout the day.
- The provider participated in regular Covid-19 testing of people living in the service and staff. That ensured action could be taken swiftly to reduce the potential spread of infection if a positive test was returned.
- Areas were thoroughly cleaned and disinfected with cleaning products approved to reduce the potential transfer of infection.
- Risk assessments had been completed to protect people and any staff who may be at higher risk should they contract Covid-19 and measures were in place to support them. Staff were supported by the option of accessing wellbeing support. The provider had appointed a member of staff to coordinate the wellbeing of all the people in the homes, their relatives and staff in all the company locations.
- Staff worked in set teams with few changes of staff from shift to shift. This lessened the potential of cross infection from team to team.

The five questions we ask about services and what we found

We always ask the following five questions of services.

Is the service safe?

We were assured the service was following safe infection prevention and control procedures to keep people safe.

Inspected but not rated

Everdale Grange

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place. As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are conducting a review of infection control and prevention measures in care homes.

The service had been identified for use by the Local Authority as a designated care setting in response to the Winter Plan for people discharged from hospital with a positive Covid-19 status. This inspection was to ensure that the service was compliant with infection control and prevention measures.

This inspection took place on 2 November 2020 and was announced.
