Summary of findings

Overall summary

Harper House is registered to provide accommodation and personal care to a maximum of five people. People lived with a learning disability. At the time of our inspection four people lived at the home.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Robust processes were in place for relatives and other people visiting the home. These included temperature checks, where required a COVID-19 test and the wearing of full Personal Protective Equipment (PPE).
- Relatives could visit their family member on a pre-arranged basis. Visiting could take place in the dining room or a summerhouse in the garden.
- There were two communal rooms for the four people to spend their time. This helped to promote social distancing and reduce a risk of infection transmission within the home.
- Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) guidance would be followed when new people were admitted to the home.
- Stocks of PPE were available. Staff were wearing PPE in line with guidance.
- Staff were required to take a COVID-19 test three times a week and people every 28 days. People or staff who tested positive were required to self-isolate in line with current government guidance.
- The premises were clean and appropriate cleaning products were used.
- Staff received IPC training which included donning and doffing of PPE and PPE usage.
- The provider's IPC policy was available to staff and was up to date.
