Summary of findings

Overall summary

Kings Bromley Care Home provides accommodation and personal care for up to 55 people. At the time of the inspection, there were 42 people using the service.

We found the following examples of good practice.

Visitors were screened for symptoms of Covid-19 to ensure their visit could take place safely in line with current guidance.

People were supported to maintain contact with loved ones via telephone calls, video calls and window visits.

The service had measures in place to enable people to receive visits in line with government guidance via a visiting pod. 'Guidance for visits' had been circulated to loved ones and a new dynamic risk assessment for people had been undertaken following the relaxation of visiting restrictions.

The environment was clean. The domestic team cleaned touch points frequently throughout the day. A deep clean was undertaken in people's rooms at least once per month.

There was a designated room where staff could undergo testing and record their results. All visitors would be tested in line with government guidance.

Staff were supported by the registered manager and received training and competency checks. This included a deep cleaning supervision, infection prevention and control training, competency test for pulse oximeter use and donning and doffing video training.
