Summary of findings

Overall summary

The Green Residential Care Home is a residential home providing personal care to 15 people aged 65 and over at the time of the inspection. The service can support up to 23 people.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Systems were in place to isolate affected people to minimise the risk of infection spread. This included personalised infection control care plans, to ensure individuals were appropriately supported.
- National guidance was followed on the use of PPE. There was clear signage on the correct use of PPE and stations were in place to ensure staff had access to PPE in a safe area.
- Information was displayed in appropriate places to make all visitors aware of the procedures that they were required to follow upon entering the service. At the time of our visit the home was closed for non-essential visitors.
- The environment was very clean. Additional cleaning was taking place including frequently touched surfaces. The service had liaised with the local infection control team and had followed their advice to implement measures to maintain and ensure the safety of people, staff and visitors.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 03 December 2020 and was announced.
