Summary of findings

Overall summary

George Edwards Smart homes is a care home providing accommodation for nursing and residential care for up to 55 people. At the time of this inspection there 44 were people living at the home. People had access to spacious communal areas. The home is built over two floors.

We found the following examples of good practice.

All essential visitors had to wear appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE). Also, have a negative COVID-19 test result, have their temperature checked and carry out hand hygiene prior to entering the home. Staff completed online training and paper-based learning booklets provided by the local NHS infection prevention and control (IPC) team. Training included putting on and taking off PPE, hand hygiene and other IPC and COVID-19 related training and updates.

People were supported to keep in touch with their relatives. Relatives could visit using the indoor visiting room that had a screened area and robust cleaning procedures in place. For people whose relatives couldn't visit other options were available using technology such as video calls.

The home had ample supplies of appropriate PPE which was stored hygienically and kept safe. Staff were provided with appropriate areas to put on, take off and dispose it safely.

Social distancing practices were in place at the home, staff took breaks separately and when people used communal areas such as dining rooms and lounge areas, they were able to share these spaces safely.

The home was very clean and additional cleaning of all areas and frequent touch surfaces was in place such as handrails. These were carried out and recorded regularly by housekeeping staff. Additional deep cleaning was also carried out where required.
