Summary of findings

Overall summary

Brackley Care Home is a care home providing nursing and personal care for up to 66 people. There were 27 people living at the home at the time of our inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice.

People were supported by staff who had received infection, prevention and control (IPC) training, had their competencies assessed and reviewed regarding donning and doffing. All staff wore appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE). Uniforms were changed before and after each shift at the service.

The service was cleaned to a high standard, cleaning of all areas had been completed hourly. The home was well laid out and supported support social distancing. The home appeared clean with no odours.

The provider's infection control policy was up to date and the registered manager completed regular IPC audits to maintain oversight and ensure correct procedures were in place and being completed. The service completed a programme of regular testing for people, staff and visitors according to Government guidance.

Risk assessments had been completed and mitigating strategies were in place for people and staff regarding individual risk factors of COVID-19.

The provider had an admissions policy in place, and we found evidence this was being followed. People were supported to self-isolate as required.

People were supported to stay in contact with friends and family. The service had multiple rooms for visiting and external areas to meet outside.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of COVID-19, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) practice is safe and that services are compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 19 January 2022 and was announced. We gave the service one days' notice of the inspection.
