Summary of findings

Overall summary

Hallamshire Residential Home is a care home which can accommodate up to 32 people who require accommodation and personal care. The home consists of one adapted building across two floors. At the time of our inspection there were 28 people living in the home.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- People were protected against the risk of infection.
- The home had robust systems in place to support relatives to visit their family members, minimising the risk of infection. Visits had been facilitated in the outside grounds of the home in designated areas during the summer. The registered manager had segregated an internal lounge with a designated external entrance to facilitate visitors safely during the winter. The only exceptions to these arrangements were visits to people placed on end of life care. Visits took place by prior arrangement and PPE was worn.
- The provider had regularly updated policies and procedures to ensure they included changes and best practice guidance in relation to COVID-19. Staff we spoke with were knowledgeable about the updates and were working in line with them.
- We observed staff changed PPE, when appropriate, and washed and sanitised their hands. The provider had invested in a fogging machine. This was used to create and disperse a disinfectant aerosol to reduce the numbers of airborne micro-organisms and also to apply disinfectant to surfaces that may be difficult to reach. Staff changing and laundry facilities had been provided to minimise the risk and spread of infection.
- Tests for COVID-19 were being carried out in line with guidance, where possible.
- The premises were clean. There was a cleaning schedule in place and adequate cleaning hours to ensure it was maintained. Additional cleaning of high use areas had been implemented, including door handles, and hand rails. We identified some areas required attention. For example, shower chairs required further cleaning and the grout between the wall tiles in the main bathroom required a deep clean. The registered manager agreed to address this immediately.
- Staff had completed training in infection control, COVID-19 and how to put on and take off their PPE. Staff were frequently briefed about changes in government advice that impacted on their role. Staff we spoke with confirmed this.
- Risk assessments were in place to consider and reduce any impact to people who used the service who may be disproportionately at risk of COVID-19 including Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic groups (BAME), people with learning disabilities and people with dementia. However, there were no formal arrangements in place for staff. The registered manager assured us this would be implemented.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place. As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are conducting a thematic review of infection control and prevention measures in care homes.

This inspection took place on 23 October 2020 and was announced. The service was selected to take part in this thematic review which is seeking to identify examples of good practice in infection prevention and control.
