Summary of findings

Overall summary

Alderton House is a 'care home' and is registered to provide accommodation and personal care for up to nine people. At the time of the inspection there were nine people living in the home.

We found the following examples of good practice.

On arrival at the home visitors had their temperature taken, completed a health questionnaire and declaration. They were required to wash their hands and were given personal protective equipment (PPE) to put on. They were also asked to complete a test for COVID-19.

The home had an ample supply of PPE. All staff had received training in the correct use of PPE, and how to take it off and put it on safely. Staff had worked flexibly to change shifts and work extra hours so that there was no need to use agency staff.

People were supported to have regular contact with their families and friends via video calling. They were supported to take part in activities that they enjoyed with staff. This included choosing items that they would like the staff to purchase for them to reduce the risk of going out to the shops.

Testing was carried out for both people living in the home and staff on a regular basis. If anyone had symptoms of COVID-19 they were tested immediately and isolated until the results were received.

Cleaning of the home, including frequently touched surfaces, had increased to reduce the risk of transmission of infection. There were ample supplies of cleaning equipment. Staff had been made aware of the correct cleaning fluids to use to prevent the spread of infection.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 9 March 2021 and was announced. The inspection was announced prior to us entering the home, so we could ensure that measures were in place to support an inspection and manage any infection control risks.
