Summary of findings

Overall summary

Yew Trees is a care home registered to provide personal care for up to 43 people in one adapted building. There were 43 people accommodated at the home at the time of the inspection.

The provider was following best practice guidance in terms of ensuring visitors to the home did not spread COVID-19. Staff were adhering to personal protective equipment (PPE) guidance and practices, and there was a space for staff to change before and after their shift.

Communal areas were well spaced and residents, and with support from staff they were encouraged to maintain social distancing. Clear plans were in place for those who were required to self-isolate. For those residents who struggled with isolation additional support was provided.

The provider had created a safe and dedicated visiting area to allow residents to see and speak to their friends and relatives. The room had divider screen and external door. The room was well-ventilated and cleaned between visitors.

Staff continued to support people to access healthcare, and arrangements were in place should residents need to attend, for example outpatient appointments safely.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 25 February 2021 and was announced.
