Summary of findings

Overall summary

Beddell House is a 'care home'. People in care homes receive accommodation and nursing or personal care as single package under one contractual agreement. CQC regulates both the premises and the care provided, and both were looked at during this inspection. Beddell House provides accommodation for up to 60 people who require support with personal care, some of whom are living with dementia. 35 people were using the service at the time of the inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice:

- Systems were in place to prevent people, staff and visitors from catching and spreading infections. All visitors had to wear appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE), complete a health declaration form and had their temperature checked prior to entering the home. Additional cleaning of all areas and frequent touch surfaces was being carried out.
- The provider was following national guidance for anyone moving into the home. Staff worked closely with healthcare professionals to ensure appropriate and safe admissions procedures were being followed and external visits such as hospital appointments were assessed and well planned.
- Staff supported people's social and emotional wellbeing. The registered manager told us how people living at the service were resilient and were very engaged with updates about Covid-19. The service had used different methods including whiteboards to assist communication with staff wearing face masks. The provider and staff kept family members up to date about the latest guidance and their relative's health via regular telephone calls, letters and social media.
- Staff wellbeing was a priority and the provider and registered manager ensured staff received appropriate guidance and support. All staff, including catering and housekeeping staff had undertaken additional training in infection prevention and control. This included putting on and taking off PPE, hand hygiene and other Covid-19 related training.
- The registered manager explained the quality systems they had in place to check the service was providing safe care. There was a robust communication system on place to ensure staff received consistent updates in relation to infection control policy and practice.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place. As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are conducting a thematic review of infection control and prevention measures in care homes.

This inspection took place on 20 October 2020 and was announced. The service was selected to take part in this thematic review which is seeking to identify examples of good practice in infection prevention and control.
