Summary of findings

Overall summary

Summer Court Care Home is a care home providing personal care and accommodation for up to 37 older people some of whom may be living with a dementia related condition. At the time of this inspection 24 people were living at the service.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Residents that were symptomatic and/or tested positive were isolated in single occupancy rooms. Where people were isolating clear signage was on their door to remind all staff and visiting healthcare professionals. A log of all staff interactions, including dates and times was in place to support each person.
- The staff checked residents for signs and symptoms of the virus. This included taking daily temperatures and looking for symptoms other people had experienced prior to testing positive.
- Plenty of clear signage was visible throughout the building and at all entry and exits points. These included reminders of the order for putting on and taking off Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and how to wash hands correctly.
- Cabinets were available in designated areas so staff could change their PPE. The provider had ensured a good selection of different sizes of PPE were available to staff, such as gloves.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe, and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 9 December 2020 and was announced.
