Summary of findings

Overall summary

Moorfields Lodge is a residential care home registered to provide personal and nursing care for up to five people with learning disabilities and autism. There were four people living in the home when we inspected.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The home was accessing the government testing scheme. Staff put systems in place to support and reassure people with the testing process.

The home was clean and well ventilated.

Pictorial signs reminded people and staff of the infection control procedures to follow to ensure their safety. Staff wore personal protective equipment (PPE) appropriately.

Staff were creative in supporting people to maintain their preferred routines and interests within the COVID-19 restrictions.

People were supported to keep in touch with family and friends through regular video calls.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 8 December 2020 and was announced.
