Summary of findings

Overall summary

Ridgeway Nursing Home provides personal care and accommodation older adults including people living with dementia over two floors in one adapted building. At the time of our inspection the service was supporting 26 people. The service can support up to 37 people.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The provider had systems in place to manage an outbreak of COVID-19. Staff were trained and followed safe infection prevention and control procedures, including the safe wearing and disposal of PPE and regularly sanitising their hands. Where staff required individual risk assessments for their personal safety, we saw these had been completed and mitigation measures were in place.

The provider had ensured sufficient stocks of personal protective equipment (PPE) was available to staff. PPE stations were placed outside rooms where people were isolating and, in several locations, to support staff to access when it was required.

The service was clean and regular cleaning of high touch areas had been introduced. Best practice guidance was maintained in relation to infection prevention and control.

Staff participated in the testing and vaccination programme. People had been supported to participate in the COVID-19 testing programme and vaccination programme. People's individual risks in relation to COVID-19 had been assessed. Care plans had been developed that provided staff with guidance about people's care and support needs.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of COVID-19, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) practice is safe and that services are compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 21 January 2022 and was unannounced.
