Summary of findings

Overall summary

Rosevilla residential home provides accommodation and personal care for up to 42 older people and people living with dementia. Accommodation is in single rooms. Communal facilities include bathrooms, lounges, dining rooms and an accessible garden area.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The service accessed COVID-19 testing in accordance with the relevant guidance.

Managers worked effectively with other staff to ensure they followed correct infection prevention and control (IPC) procedures and were provided with current IPC guidance. Staff completed IPC training.

Well stocked and clearly signed personal protective equipment (PPE) stations were located around the service. Staff were observed using correct PPE equipment when carrying out their duties. Staff were observed social distancing whilst supporting people.

People were supported with their wellbeing through regular one-to-one contact with staff and support to contact family and friends. The provider had recently purchased a large interactive television with an additional camera to help support family to exchange messages and videos whenever they wished to.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.
