Summary of findings

Overall summary

Rosemount Care Home is a residential home providing personal care for up to 15 people. At the time of our inspection, 11 people were being supported. The home is a converted Victorian house in the Edgeley district of Stockport.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The provider had arrangements for booking visitors at the home which included any visitor taking an LFT test, having their temperature checked and wearing personal protective equipment (PPE) when entering the care home. Visitors were able to book time slots to visit safely with their family member.

The service supported people and their relatives and essential care givers to understand the isolation processes and how the service could help to alleviate them feeling lonely during an outbreak of COVID-19. This included calls with friends and loved ones and dedicated support time from plentiful staff members in different rooms for activities.

Specific staff were allocated to support all people's needs, and staff were consistently working in the same area of the home to avoid cross contamination. During an outbreak, people were supported by staff to isolate in their own rooms and areas near their rooms as much as possible.

PPE was well stocked and organised, and cleaning products were stored and used appropriately. The home was clean.

Staff and people living at the home were partaking in regular testing. Staff and people living at the home had been vaccinated.

Rosemount Care Home

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of COVID-19, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control (IPC) practice is safe and that services are compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 16 February 2022 and was announced. We gave the service one hour's notice of the inspection.

Is the service safe?

Our findings

Staffing

- The provider told us they had measures in place to mitigate the risks associated with COVID-19 related staff pressures.

How well are people protected by the prevention and control of infection?

- We were assured that the provider was preventing visitors from catching and spreading infections.
- We were assured that the provider was meeting shielding and social distancing rules.
- We were assured that the provider was admitting people safely to the service.
- We were assured that the provider was using PPE effectively and safely.
- We were assured that the provider was accessing testing for people using the service and staff.
- We were somewhat assured that the provider was promoting safety through the layout and hygiene practices of the premises. The home was clean and odour free. However, we noted some areas of the home had cracks and chips in the paintwork which would make cleaning difficult. The registered manager told us they were aware of the improvements needed and this was being addressed.
- We were assured that the provider was making sure infection outbreaks can be effectively prevented or managed.
- We were assured that the provider's infection prevention and control policy was up to date.
- The provider had safe systems in place to facilitate and support visiting at the home in line with national guidance.

From 11 November 2021 registered persons must make sure all care home workers and other professionals visiting the service are fully vaccinated against COVID-19, unless they have an exemption or there is an emergency.

- The Government has announced its intention to change the legal requirement for vaccination in care homes, but the service was meeting the current requirement to ensure non-exempt staff and visiting professionals were vaccinated against COVID-19.
