Overall summary

Thorndale is a care home providing accommodation for those who require nursing or personal care. The home is registered for 60 people and there were 47 living at the service at the time of our inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice.

Thorndale ensured current government guidelines in relation to COVID-19 were being followed by staff and visitors to reduce the risk of infection to people living at the home. This included comprehensive checks for visitors on arrival.

The infection control policy was up to date. We reviewed audits which reflected actions had been taken to maintain the standards within the home.

Thorndale managed risk in relation to infection well, where people were unable to social distance regular observation checks were recorded and increased touchpoint cleaning was undertaken.

We visited during an outbreak, the home was set up in zones with dedicated staff assigned to each zone to reduce the risk of cross contamination. The design of the building allowed for meals to be delivered using the lift to further reduce cross contamination. Staff interacted with other staff using an intercom system.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on Friday 14 January 2022 and was announced. We gave the service 24 hours notice of the inspection.
