Summary of findings

Overall summary

Spennymoor Court Care Home provides accommodation and personal care for up to 45 older people, including people who are living with dementia. At the time of our inspection there were 30 people living at the service.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Staff wore personal protective equipment (PPE) correctly.
- Staff had completed training to develop their knowledge on safe COVID-19 practices.
- People's rooms and communal areas were visibly clean and hygienic.
- There were hand sanitising points and PPE available throughout the service with further PPE available in people's room.
- The service had installed a visitors pod. This was a separate structure outside the premises which had two sealed parts separated by glass. This allowed people to safely see their relatives.
- The provider had an admission policy to safely admit new people into the service. This incorporated a virtual pre-admission assessment, a COVID-19 test before arriving at the service and the person's personal belongings were sanitised.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 24 November 2020 and was announced.
