Summary of findings

Overall summary

St Georges Residential Home provides personal care for up to 38 older people in a purpose-built building. On the day of our inspection, 35 people were using the service.

We found the following examples of good practice:

- Appropriate measures were in place at the entrance and inside the home to prevent visitors from spreading infection. All visitors were required to wear appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) and follow good hand hygiene practices.
- PPE was safely stored and used. Staff had received training in infection prevention and control.
- The environment was clean, with enhanced cleaning taking place of frequently touched surfaces.
- The provider was following national guidance for anyone moving into the home and admissions were carried out safely.
- People were supported to keep in touch with their family members via video or telephone calls. The provider had developed ways to safely support visits in line with the latest guidance.
- Social distancing rules were being complied with. Some minor changes had been made to the layout of furniture to encourage and support social distancing.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 9 March 2021 and was announced.
