Summary of findings

Overall summary

Rivermead View Residential Care Home provides accommodation with personal care for up to 32 people. There were 28 people using the service at the time of our inspection. Rivermead View is situated in the town of Looe in Cornwall. It is a three-storey building with a range of aids and adaptations in place to meet the needs of people living there. It is close to the centre of Looe, to shops and the beach with links to public transport. People had their own bedrooms and access to a communal dining area, lounge and conservatory. There were a range of bathing facilities designed to meet the needs of the people using the service. There was a garden which people could use if they were being supported.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The management team were continuing to support staff to contain the COVID-19 outbreak at the service. Daily oversight and careful management of staffing levels had meant staff shortages had been managed effectively. Staffing levels were being supported by the use of the services own workforce and their internal agency system, Cornwallis Extra. Staffing absences, due to COVID-19 infections and other issues had not impacted on staffing levels or the quality of support people received.

The service was following current guidance in relation to visiting care homes during outbreaks of COVID-19. Essential care givers and visits to people in receipt of end of life care were possible. We observed people asking staff for support without hesitation and staff responded promptly and sensitively.

The service had a committed staff team to ensure people received care and support in a safe and hygienic environment. People were supported in the service in accordance with national guidance. The staff team supported people and their relatives to understand the policies and procedures surrounding protection against COVID-19.

Additional cleaning protocols were in place to ensure all high touch points were regularly sanitised.

Personal protective equipment (PPE) was available to all staff and visitors. Staff and people living at the service were regularly tested for COVID-19.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the COVID-19 pandemic we are looking at how services manage infection control and visiting arrangements. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection prevention and control measures the provider had in place. We also asked the provider about any staffing pressures the service was experiencing and whether this was having an impact on the service.

This inspection took place on 10 February 2022 and was announced. We gave the service 24 hours' notice of the inspection.

During the inspection we saw people who were being supported by staff in an appropriate manner. We spoke with four staff, the deputy manager and the registered manager. We gained their feedback on the service performance and visiting arrangements.
