Summary of findings

Overall summary

About the service

Mornington House is a small care home registered to support people with learning disabilities or autistic spectrum disorder which can accommodate up to 8 adults. There were 7 people accommodated at the home at the time of the inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Risk assessments and care home visiting forms were completed prior to entry.
- National guidance around coronavirus had been implemented. Personal protective equipment (PPE) was used effectively to safeguard staff and people using the service. We observed clear signage reminding people about the need to wash their hands and information on donning and doffing PPE effectively. A designated area at the rear entrance of the home had been created to enable staff and visitors access to PPE and there was adequate ventilation within the home. Staff received specific training on how to keep people safe from the risk of infection and had received clinical skills training.
- Although local restrictions were in place at the time of the inspection, alternative measures such as video calls and phone calls were utilised to update and maintain contact with family and friends.
- The provider complied with shielding and social distancing rules. Visits to families had been individually risk assessed thoroughly to manage the impact of the restrictions on people's well being.
- We observed the home looked clean and hygienic. We viewed cleaning schedules and were made aware that high touch areas such as handles, and switches received additional cleaning daily. Environmental, coronavirus and infection control policies and procedures were in place to ensure infection prevention procedures were robust.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.
