Summary of findings

Overall summary

Beggars Roost is a residential care home and provides personal and nursing care for up to 26 people. At the time of inspection, 17 people were receiving a service.

We found the following examples of good practice.

People told us they felt safe with the infection control and prevention measures that were in place. The layout of the service had been changed to support social distancing. For example, in the lounge chairs were spaced apart from each other and additional covered seating areas had been created in the garden.

All visitors and contractors were required to undertake Lateral Flow Device tests (LFD) on arrival. Visiting was in line with government guidance and had been adapted throughout the pandemic to ensure visiting was compliant with government guidelines. Clear signage around the outside of the premises directed visitors to a separate entrance.

All people and staff participated in regular whole home testing for Covid 19. Personal protective equipment (PPE) was readily available and there was plenty of it around the service. Staff wore and used PPE appropriately.

The premises were clean and odour free. There was an enhanced cleaning regime in place which included regular sanitisation of high touch areas.

People had been supported to stay in touch with relatives using technology such as video and voice activated devices. People were supported to have visitors to the care home and provision for this was made both in the garden and inside the care home depending on people's preferences at the time.

A range of activities were available, and people also made use of the fully accessible garden area.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 12 May 2021 and was announced.
