Summary of findings

Overall summary

The Olde Coach House is a residential care home that provides support and accommodation for up to 33 people, some of whom may be living with dementia. At the time of the inspection, 23 people were using the service. There are several lounge and dining areas where people can spend their time. Bedrooms are located on both the ground and first floors, with some having en-suite facilities.

We found the following examples of good practice.

The provider had invested in staff and technology, to ensure safe visiting processes which followed government guidance were in place. Visitor protocols were in place to ensure anyone entering the service received a lateral flow coronavirus test prior to entry, was temperature tested and provided with personal protective equipment (PPE) to remain safe during their visit.

People were supported to maintain important relationships with their families and friends. This included phone and video calls and window visits. The provider had discussed visits with people and their families to ensure appropriate contact was maintained.

Social distancing was maintained, and people were admitted to the service safely. Isolation processes were implemented for people new to the service and if people displayed symptoms of COVID-19 or received a positive test result. Staff and people using the service were regularly tested for COVID-19.

Staff were trained in the use of personal protective equipment (PPE) and used PPE appropriately. The provider regularly completed 'spot checks' to ensure staff had the relevant skills and knowledge for hand washing and PPE use.

The service was clean and tidy. Extra cleaning was regularly completed and focused on frequently touched areas to help reduce the risk of infection.
