We are mindful of the impact of Covid-19 pandemic on our regulatory function. This meant we took account of the exceptional circumstances arising as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic when considering what type of inspection was necessary and proportionate, this was therefore a desk-based review.

On 24 July we carried out a desk-based review to confirm that the practice had carried out its plan to meet the legal requirements in relation to the breach of regulation we identified at our previous inspection on 9 February 2019.

We found that improvements had been made and the provider was no longer in breach of the regulation and we have amended the rating for this practice accordingly. The practice is now rated as Good for the provision of well-led services. We previously rated the practice as Good for providing safe, effective, caring and responsive services.

During this desk-based review we looked at a range of documents submitted by the practice to demonstrate how they had met the requirement notice. The documents we looked at included those relating to:

- A revised structured clinical audit programme.
- Revised systems to identify and review vulnerable adults on their clinical system.
- A revised formal system in place for risk assessments as part of health and safety monitoring.
- A revised referral tracking system in place.

During this desk-based review we looked at the following question:

Are services well-led?

We found that this service was providing a well-led service in accordance with the relevant regulations.

- The practice had a programme of clinical audit in place to monitor and improve quality.
- The practice had an effective system to identify all known vulnerable adults and children on their clinical system.
- Health and safety arrangements had been strengthened and risk assessments put in place as part of risk management.
- The referral tracking system had been reviewed and a system in place to manage this proactively.
- The practice were continuing to engage with the patient participation group who had supported the practice with a number of campaigns.

The areas where the provider should make improvements are:

- Further explore ways to increase the uptake rates for cervical cancer screening.
- Explore ways to increase the identity of patients who also act as carers.
- Continue to review the patient satisfaction rates with telephone access.

Details of our findings and the evidence supporting our ratings are set out in the evidence table.
