Summary of findings

Overall summary

New Tyne is a care home without nursing which is registered to provide a service for up to 20 people who have a diagnosis of dementia or who are being assessed for this condition. At the time of the inspection 9 people were living at the home. The service is provided from a single purpose built residence offering single occupancy rooms with their own toilet and access to shared bathrooms.

We found the following examples of good practice.

People were well supported by staff to have telephone and internet contact with their family and friends. The service facilitated in person visits in a manner which minimised the risk of infection spread, including outside visits, and visits using patio doors in ground floor rooms.

Plans were in place to isolate people with COVID-19 to minimise transmission. The service had good supplies of personal protective equipment (PPE) that were readily available at stations throughout the service.

Visitors were asked to take a lateral flow COVID-19 test, have their temperature checked, use hand sanitiser and sign in on arrival. Visiting health and social care professionals who were part of a workplace COVID-1 testing assurance programme, such as GPs and district nurses were not required to take lateral flow tests.

Staff had received training on how to keep people safe during the COVID-19 pandemic and staff and residents were regularly tested for COVID-19. The building was clean and free from clutter.

Staff ensured people's welfare had been maintained and they had sufficient stimulation, such as through activities.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 (the Act) as part of our regulatory functions. We checked whether the provider was meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Act. We looked at the overall quality of the service and provided a rating for the service under the Care Act 2014.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 24 February 2021 and was announced.
