Summary of findings

Overall summary

Peel Gardens Residential and Nursing Home provides personal care and nursing care for up to 45 older people and people living with dementia. At the time of the inspection, 39 people were living at the home.

We found the following examples of good practice:

Staff wore appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) to ensure people were protected as much as possible from the risk of cross infection. There was a large quantity of PPE in stock. PPE and hand sanitisation points were located throughout the home. Staff had received training on how to put on and take off PPE safely. Enhanced cleaning was being completed throughout the day, to ensure the home remained clean and the risk of cross infection was reduced.

There were clear processes in place for visitors to the service. They were screened for Covid 19 symptoms on arrival and were required to wear appropriate PPE and maintain social distancing during their visit. Due to the national lockdown, only essential visitors, such as health professionals, were allowed to enter the home at the time of our inspection. The provider was supporting people to stay in contact with family and friends through regular video calls and telephone calls.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider was meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to the coronavirus pandemic we are looking at the preparedness of care homes in relation to infection prevention and control. This was a targeted inspection looking at the infection control and prevention measures the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 10 February 2021 and was announced.
