Summary of findings

Overall summary

Highfield (Stockton) is a residential home providing personal care to older people and people living with a dementia. It accommodates up to 40 people in one purpose-built building. There were 30 people using the service when we visited.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Systems were in place to allow safe visiting, including screening visitors before they entered the building.
- Social distancing was encouraged and changes had been made to communal areas to promote this.
- Staff wore personal protective equipment (PPE). Training in infection prevention and control measures and the appropriate use of PPE had taken place.
- Systems were in place to admit people safely into the home.
- Regular Covid testing was taking place.

Further information is in the detailed findings below.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 17 November 2020 and was announced

Is the service safe?
