About the service

Cleggsworth care home is a residential care home providing personal care for up to 38 people aged 65 and over in one adapted building. There were 26 people accommodated at the home at the time of the inspection.

We found the following examples of good practice.

- Visitors risk assessments and temperatures were undertaken prior to entry.
- National guidance around coronavirus had been implemented. Personal protective equipment (PPE) was used effectively to safeguard staff and people using the service. We observed signage on donning and doffing PPE effectively and observed a staff member demonstrating this. Staff received specific training on infection control and how to keep people safe from the risk of infection.
- Although local restrictions were in place at the time of the inspection, alternative measures such as video calls and phone calls were utilised to update and maintain contact with family and friends.
- The provider complied with shielding and social distancing rules and people were admitted to the service safely.
- We observed the home looked very clean. We spoke with the domestic staff and viewed cleaning schedules and infection control audits.
- Infection control policies and procedures were in place and the service had invested in air purifying systems which were located in all bedrooms and the communal lounges.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 4 December 2020 and was announced.
