Summary of findings

Overall summary

Ashwood Court is registered to provide personal and nursing care for a maximum of 30 people, including people who live with dementia. On the day of our inspection, 29 people were using the service.

We found the following examples of good practice:

- Appropriate measures were in place at the entrance and inside the home to prevent visitors from spreading infection. All visitors were required to wear appropriate personal protective equipment (PPE) and follow good hand hygiene practices.
- PPE was appropriately stored, used and disposed of. Staff had undertaken additional training in infection prevention and control and regular audits were carried out.
- The environment was very clean, with enhanced cleaning taking place of frequently touched surfaces.
- Some minor changes had been made to the layout of furniture to encourage and support social distancing.
- People were supported to keep in touch with their family members via video or telephone calls. The provider had developed ways to safely support visits in line with the latest guidance.
- The provider was following national guidance for anyone moving into the home and admissions were carried out safely.

Detailed findings

Background to this inspection

We carried out this inspection under Section 60 of the Health and Social Care Act 2008 as part of our regulatory functions. This inspection was planned to check whether the provider is meeting the legal requirements and regulations associated with the Health and Social Care Act 2008.

As part of CQC's response to care homes with outbreaks of coronavirus, we are conducting reviews to ensure that the Infection Prevention and Control practice was safe and the service was compliant with IPC measures. This was a targeted inspection looking at the IPC practices the provider has in place.

This inspection took place on 3 March 2021 and was announced.
